The Prydonian Renegade

The newsletter of The Prydonians of Prynceton
Volume Four, Number Seven
October 1987

October Sees Assembly, Halloween Party

Other events planned for November, December

The October Assembly will be held Saturday, October 3, from noon to 4 pm, at the Lawrenceville Library. For more information anddirections or to offer or request a ride, call 609-921-8148. Also, we will meet certain trains from New York and Philadelphia at the Trenton station. As always, food and drink to share with others will be appreciated. After the meeting, we will be going out for our usual dinner. All are invited.

Also, we will be having a Halloween Party on Saturday, October 31, from 7 pm to whenever, at Gallifrey East II, 216 Witherspoon Street, Princeton, NJ (609-921-8148). This will be a costume party! Come as your favourite Doctor Who, Blakes 7, or science fiction character. Skits and songs will be welcomed, as will the usual food and drink. If you need a ride or want to offer a ride, please call Gallifrey East.

That's not the end of our Fall–Winter activities! On Saturday, November 7, we will be having a party in the Philadelphia area in conjunction with that weekend's Creation Convention at the Philly Holiday Inn. Then, our November Assembly will be held the following Saturday, November 14, at the Library. On the 21st, we will be celebrating 24 years of Doctor Who at the home of Linda Anne Lineaweaver in Beverly, NJ. That's three events on three successive weekends, gang!

And as if that isn't enough, the December Assembly will be on Saturday, December 5, at the Library, and on the 19th, we'll be having our Christmas Party. More information on all these events in upcoming Renegades.

Come one, come all. You're all welcome!

Bylaws up for members' vote; ballot includes clubwide poll

As promised two months ago, this issue contains a ballot you can use to approve or disapprove the Bylaws presented as part of the July issue. The ballot also has several questions asking you your opinions of the club, its recent actions, and some other stuff we'd kind of like to know. Please fill it out and send it to Duffy McLaughlin, 244 Parkway Avenue, Ewing, NJ 08618. The deadline is October 24.

Note: for household members, please make enough copies of the ballot for each member in your household. Also, you must sign the ballot for it to count. Duffy will record the votes, not the names of voters. Your signature is only to keep track of who has voted so that no one can vote more than once. No one on the High Council will see the ballots, only the tabulated results, which will be announced in the November Renegade. This is a straight yes-or-no, up-or-down vote on the Bylaws. At least 100 members must vote for it to be valid. If fewer than 100 ballots are received, the Bylaws will remain in effect. This is because the club must have bylaws for legal reasons.

We hope you will vote and complete the poll questions. We need your input to keep the club going and to know what you want out of the club. It will remain your club only as long as you put something into it. Thanks.

Gallifrey East II to open; smash hit sequel expected

Gallifrey East II will officially open on Saturday, October 31, with the club's Halloween Party! This sequel (which doesn't star Eddie Murphy) is expected to prove at least as popular as its predecessor, the legendary Gallifrey East. The latter was the site of some of the club's infamous parties;

continued on page three

Sleer implicated in Klingon-Shobogan Arms for Tapes Scandal

by Lefthanded Supreme Cardinal Dim, ace investigative reporter

The Federation has been embarrassed by allegations of a secret three-cornered deal with two alien races it had pledged not to try to appease. According to a classified Senate report, the Sherman Administration has been selling arms to the Klingons in return for bootleg tapes of Earth television programs, and then sending the money to the Shobogan rebels on Gallifrey. This is in direct violation of the Administration's pledges not to have any dealings with the belligerent Klingons and also in violation of its promise to the Senate to stay out of Gallifreyan politics.

Space Commander Peabody, a former member of the Galactic Security Council, made the charges in secret testimony to the Senate Meddling Committee last week. A copy of his deposition was leaked to this newspaper. He charged that Barbarella Sleer, Federation Commissioner of Security for the Outer Zones, conceived of the plan and convinced President Sherman to go along with it.

continued on page six

In this issue— a photo of the new Companion! (see page three)

Editorials

Tell us what you think!

As promised, this month we are submitting the club's Bylaws for your vote. Obviously we hope you will approve them, but even more than that, we hope you will vote. The letters column of many recent issues of The Renegade was full of letters debating the value of a democratic club. While we often disputed the absolute necessity of electing officers, we nevertheless regularly stated that we need and value members' input, ideas, comments, criticism, etc. It is your club, after all, but only if you work to make it so. Anyone who sits back and disapproves but says nothing isn't helping either the club or himself.

For those of you wondering why all the fuss, let us say a few things. First, Bylaws are legally required now that we are a nonprofit corporation. Second, having Bylaws will make it easier to keep the club running in the future, as new High Councillors are needed. Third, you should have a say in running the club. The Bylaws put forth ways for that to happen. The club is supposed to be fun. But that takes organization and work. We worked hard on the Bylaws. Now we'd like to know what you think of our efforts.

In any case, we hope you will all take a few minutes to return your ballots. Also, we hope you will respond fully and honestly to the poll questions; your answers will help us make the club a better and more fun place for us all.

Sleer must resign

Those who thought, along with us, that the Federation would be a better place following the death of former Supreme Commander Natasha Servalan have been bitterly disappointed. We never considered that what followed Servalan might be even worse. But that appears to be the case. The newly appointed Commissioner for Security in the Outer Zones, Barbarella Sleer, shows a ruthlessness, a lack of all humanity and decency, and a tastelessness in dress far beyond even Servalan's appalling accomplishments in these fields. It is Sleer who initiated the disgusting Pylene 50 pacification program, Sleer who murdered the former President of Helotrix, Sleer who stole the Zerok gold, Sleer who dealt with the notorious psychopathic contract assassin Cancer. And it is now Sleer who is involved in yet another vile corruption scandal, the Gallifreyan/Klingon arms mess. Whoever in this pathetic administration thought it would be a good idea to sell arms to the Klingons and use the proceeds to support the Shobogan rebels on Gallifrey should proceed immediately to the nearest hospital and offer himself—or herself—as an organ transplant donor. For he—or she—is obviously brain dead. The testimony before the Senate investigating committee of former Galactic Security Adviser Bullwinkle that Commissioner Sleer was behind the whole disaster should not be taken as necessarily the whole truth. But this harridan's entire public career has been such that she is a plausible candidate for the midwife of this misbegotten madness. That it has weakened the Federation's relations with both the Klingons and the Time Lords goes without saying. That it has strengthened both of these enemies of mankind is also obvious. It might have brought down the present Administration. What no one seems to have recognized is that such seems to have been Sleer's motive in undertaking the sale of arms to the Klingons. What she intended to do next is something that only a thorough investigation can determine. For the good of us all, Sleer must resign and face a tribunal. Only in this way shall we learn the truth.

The High Council

Tom Beck, 216 Witherspoon Street, Princeton, NJ 08540, 609-921-8148; Cathy Boudreau, 112 Columbus Avenue, Tuckahoe, NY 10707, 914-337-1621; Linda Anne Lineaweaver, 4D8 Harbor Green, Beverly, NJ 08010, 609-877-3464; Maureen Mulholland, 1203 Noreen Drive, Burlington Township, NJ 0, 609-386-6813; Kim Elaine Neighbor, 717 Trumbull Avenue, Lawrenceville, NJ 08648, 609-396-2858.

The Prydonian Renegade is published monthly by Prydonians of Princeton, Inc., a Doctor Who/Blakes 7 fan club and not-for-profit corporation. © 1987 Prydonians of Princeton, Inc. Doctor Who and Blakes 7 are © 1987 BBC. This newsletter is published solely to inform and entertain the club's members and no infringements of anyone else's legitimate copyrights is intended. The club operates a computer bulletin board message service on The TARDIS BBS, 609-448-1361. The Prydonians are a charter chapter of the Doctor Who Fan Club of America (DWFCA) and are members of the APC Net and the North East Matrix. Is McCoy a Doctor or a Time Lord?

Letters to The Renegade

Dear Prydonians:

We would like to thank everyone who sent cards and flowers, lent tapes, or called during our recuperation from our accident. It is a warming experience to be part of such a caring group of people.

Kim Elaine and Gregory Neighbor

We're just glad you're all right. High Councillors are hard to find. (HHOK!)

Dear Prydonians:

Just received my September issue of The Renegade and read with interest the article by Miriam Levy about her recent visit to England and the plays she saw that featured actors from Doctor Who and Blakes 7.

I too was in England in the latter part of July and saw Paul Darrow in Run for Your Wife. I did, however, have the pleasure of seeing Colin Baker in Corpse and Tom Baker in a play by J. B. Priestly entitled An Inspector Calls. For a moment it was hard to recognize Tom as his hair was cut short and was a salt-and-pepper colour. Needless to say, it was interesting to sit in the audience and watch actors on stage whom I have only seen on television.

Looking forward to seeing you at the Blakes 7 convention in Newark.

Barbara Lukas

The actors would love to hear you say it. One thing they just dote on is talking about other shows and plays they've done besides Who or Blake. In fact, a sign of a real "dirty old pro" type of fan is that he or she deliberately asks the star about some obscure job the star had early in his or her career!

Dear Prydonians:

Just to let you know we haven't disappeared or gotten a real job. No, the Terrorist Fan Collective of the Peoples Republic of Gallifrey is still alive and kicking, even though disco has been dead for years. As soon as we find Gallifrey (the map we got at the gas station is eons out of date) we'll stir up you tired old fogies who think a trip to a 7-11 is a big night out! Nyah nyah nyah nyah nyah.

Supreme Cardinal Bilgewater

Could you tell I didn't have anything else to go here?

TARDIS Talk

Scarf Raffle Continues!

Our scarf raffle is still continuing. As stated in previous issues, we have two Fourth Doctor–type scarves, one about 18 feet long, the other about 2 feet long. We are raffling them off for $1 a chance. The drawing will be at the club's Christmas Party. Chances are available at all club functions, at conventions, and by mail. If you'd like to buy a chance, send your money to PO Box 3194, Princeton, NJ 08543-3194. The scarves, donated by Eric Scrhamm, are really nice, and the club does need the money. They'd make a perfect Christmas gift for someone. Order you chances now!

Paul Darrow at Philly Creation

Paul Darrow will be at the Creation Convention in Philadelphia on November 7–8. Terry Nation is not confirmed for this show. It will be at the Holiday Inn in central Philly. We hope to have a table here. We also plan to have a party in the area the night of the 7th.

John Nathan-Turner will be at the Creation Thanksgiving Convention at the Penta Hotel in Manhattan on November 27–29. He will be bringing slides from Season 24 of Doctor Who. For information on this and other Creation shows, call them at 516-746-9626. Note that this is a new phone number. Their new address is 145 Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, NY 11501.

Gallifrey East II opens in October

continued from page one

the club can only hope that its members will conspire to make Gallifrey East II at least as successful.

Gallifrey East II is located at 216 Witherspoon Street, in Princeton, New Jersey, just a half a block from the local hospital (an omen? We hope not!). Come see it at its inaugural celebration! For directions and other information, call 609-921-8148.

Times change: Sophie and Sylvester Picture: LARRY ELLIS

Sophie's the one for Who

ACTRESS Sophie Aldred will soon be heading for the stars... as Dr Who's 19th girl assistant.

Sophie, who not only shares the same star sign but the same birthday as the latest Doctor, is to replace Bonnie Langford.

It had never been intended that Bonnie would do more than two series, BBC producer John Nathan-Turner said yesterday.

"We haven't decided quite what to do with her yet, but it won't be a nasty end."

Sophie, 24, will be making her TV debut as Dr Who Sylvester McCoy's new partner, to be called Ace.

Scared

She said: "I can't believe this is happening. It's a dream start in TV.

"I used to watch the show when I was a kid, and Jon Pertwee played the Doctor.

"I was the typical scared child, peeping out from behind the sofa."

Mr Nathan Turner said: "She will be more self-reliant and independent —a real '80s teenager.

A look at the new logo!
(courtesy of DWAS' Celestial Toyroom)

DSV 1 Almost Sold Out!

DSV One, the big Blakes 7 con scheduled for next January 29–31 at the Newark Airport Holiday Inn, has only about 150 memberships left. This show, which has invited Paul Darrow, Michael Keating, Gareth Thomas, and Terry Nation, is the biggest B7 event ever on the east coast. Don't miss out! Tickets are $45 for all three days. Send checks (payable to Decima Productions) to Decima Productions, PO Box 7926, FDR Station, New York, NY 10150. Be sure to mention all the local fan clubs you belong to.

Club starts DSV 1 "travel bureau"

As a service to members who aren't sure how they will be able to get to DSV One or who to stay with when they get there, we are offering the pages of the Renegade as a sort of "lonely con-goers club." If you are going to DSV One and are willing to take people with you, or if you want to go and need a ride or someone to travel with, let us know! If you have a room and need people to share it with, or if you would like to share with someone, let us know! We will print names, addresses, and phone numbers of people going and needing or offering rides and hotel rooms. After that, it's up to you to call anyone with whom you'd like to travel or share. The club assumes no responsibilities for any arrangements made through this service. We're just the passive middlemen. Sharing a room at a con can be great fun (how much sleep do you get at a convention, anyhow? If you do get enough sleep, then you obviously didn't have a good time!), not to mention an essential way of cutting costs. Anyway, we hope this will help people who want to go and don't know how to get to Newark.

Sophie Aldred: An "Ace" of an actress

Sophie Aldred, who will play Ace, the Doctor's newest Companion, is a 25-year-old actress from Manchester who has mostly done fringe theater and productions for children, according to Barbara Teichert, who spoke to Doctor Who producer John Nathan-Turner and to Sophie's agent during a recent trip to London. Sophie, who will play a teenaged chemist-turned-waitress in the final episode of the 24th Season and next year, went to Manchester University, appeared at the Edinburgh Theatre Festival in 1981 and 1982, and has been a production of "Fiddler on the Roof" at the Manchester Opera House. She hosted ten episodes of "Corners," a BBC children's programme.

New in the TARDIS Library

Dirk Gently's Holistic Detective Agency, by Douglas Adams. Simon and Schuster, $14.95.

Having enjoyed all of Douglas Adams Hitchhikers books, I was intrigued by the possibilities of an original Adams novel. Entertaining though they were, the four books making up the Hitchhikers "Trilogy" were hardly original, regardless of the fact that they are very funny.The first two are simply novelizations of his own scripts for the radio series, with the latter two expanding (and contradicting) the story.

If I was expecting an original Douglas Adams novel, I must express disappointment. Many ideas found Dirk Gently were originally set forth during his tenure as script editor for Doctor Who. Don't get me wrong, though. I encourage each and every one of to give it a try. I think you'll be pleasantly surprised.

Without giving too much away, let me just say that Dirk Gently combines elements of Adam's previous work: bits of "City of Death" with characters reminiscent of Ford Prefect (Dirk Gently) and Arthur Dent (Richard MacDuff), along with one character and setting lifted straight out of "Shada." Adams mixes all of this into a fascinating series of events designed to prove Gently's belief in "the fundamental interconnectedness of all things."

This "Holistic" approach makes for amusing, if initially confusing, reading. In the course of the first few chapters, Adams introduces us to many different characters, settings, and situations, all seemingly worlds apart. But gradually things start to come together into such a cohesive whole that I wonder why I didn't see the connections from the start!

So why review it for The Renegade? Adams has revived the character of Urban Chronotis, Regius Professor of Chronology ("Reg" for short), and the setting of St. Cedd's College, Cambridge. Astute Whovians will recognize Chronotis as a central figure in the "lost" story "Shada." It is indeed the same Chronotis, though there is no mention of Time Lords or TARDISes. Reg just happens to live in rooms that can travel in time and space.

Chronotis is one of those great missed opportunities in Doctor Who lore. In "Shada" he is portrayed as a dottering old man who can barely remember his own name, much less what someone said to him two minutes earlier. But in the course of the episode, it is revealed that Chronotis is actually Salyavin, one of the most powerful Time Lords in their oh-so-long history. Because of his extraordinary ability to control minds and his tendency to meddle, he was imprisoned on Shada, the Time Lords' prison planet, in unending stasis, from which he escapes and retires to Cambridge.

Unfortunately, none of this is mentioned in Dirk Gently's Holistic Detective Agency. After all, Douglas Adams has to save some old ideas for future novels. Despite the fact that I spent my time reading the book trying to convince myself that my fantasy of a novelization of "Shada" was completely unfounded, I couldn't shake that feeling. Besides, now that he has introduced the concept of time traveling with Chronotis to his general readership, can a novelization of "Shada" be far behind? Professor Chronotis, at least, will be back, though whether as Salyavin or not isn't clear. How can I be so certain? The last words of the book are "To be continued..."

I can hardly wait....

—Thomas F. Smith

Dirk Gently's Holistic Detective Agency makes a nice change from the repetitive sillinesses of Douglas Adams' Hitchhiker books. It's nice that the rumor of a fifth book in the series are unfounded. Adams has enough talent not to have to keep doing the same old thing again and again.

While his new book may appeal to Doctor Who fans primarily for its obvious borrowings from Douglas Adams' own scripts for the series, they are not its only, or even its principal, attractions. Along with the intricate and entertaining plot, the book contains some of the very best writing Adams has ever done. The section where the ghost walks is one of the most harrowing things I've ever read, easily scarier than anything Stephen King has written. Adams displays a very sure sense of place and character, as well as a confident ability to tell his story, enjoying the telling, rather than rushing to get through the plot. There is also fewer of the bizarre, often inane, digressions that punctuated the Hitchhiker books and that by the third volume had started to pall.

There are a few problems with Dirk Gently, but this is probably Adams' best book yet. Those who loved the loony strangeness of Hitchhiker will not find the same approach or style here; those who want to try a nifty combination of science fiction, mystery, and semi-horror will find a lot to like.

—Tom Beck

The Doctor Who Fun Book, by Tim Quinn and Dicky Howett. Target Books, $3.95.

Readers of Marvel's Doctor Who magazine will recognize this book's two authors. They're the artists who draw the monthly comic strip on the letters page. This is a slim collection of original cartoons and comic strips all gently spoofing and pinking the world of our favourite Time Lord and the madmen of the BBC who produce his adventures for us. There's lots of silliness and dopiness in this thin paperback; given its low price, it's a perfect gift for the Whovian in your life with a barm;y sense of humor.

—T.B.

Black Orchid, by Terence Dudly. Target Books, $3.50.

"Black Orchid" is my favourite Peter Davison episode, and I was impatient for Target to schedule and release a novelization of it. I thought it could make a splendid novel, and I was right. Terence Dudley, who wrote the script, has expanded his story without padding it. He has also come up with narrative equivalents for the visual elements of the story; this is unusual in a Doctor Who novelizer.

Anyhow, the book is a gem, but that's not why I wanted to review it. It also shows the dangers of faulty editing. A book editor is supposed to review the manuscript and make sure that it remains true to the series. And Nigel Robinson, former editor of the series for Target, has failed, blatantly failed, in his duty here. On page 105, the Doctor "remembered the Master's attempt to topple King John of England." This is an obvious reference to "The King's Demons," also scripted and novelized by Terence Dudley. Except that "Black Orchid" was in Peter Davison's first season and "King's Demons" in his second. Even the Doctor cannot know of events from his own personal timeline that haven't happened yet. Where was Nigel Robinson with his editor's blue pencil?

That glaring gaffe aside, "Black Orchid" is one of the best novelizations in years. I won't say it was well worth waiting for, as I hate to wait for anything, but now that it's here, I'm a little happier than I was.

—T.B.

More News Notes

B7 Story Contest Open

Our Blakes 7 story contest continues. The rules are simple: send us an original, never-before-published story about anything in the B7 universe. Stories must be typed, less than 2000 words long, and accompanied by a $1 entry fee. Submit as many stories as you like, provided they all meet the above rules. The stories will be judged by our specially selected jury of giant mutant chimpanzees from Mars; first, second, and third prizes will be awarded. The deadline is November 28. Send all stories to PO Box 3194, Princeton, NJ 08543-3194. We can't wait to read your stories!

Flea Market postponed; will be rescheduled

We got rained out of working the Columbus (NJ) Flea Market on September 13, so we'll be trying to find another date. In the meantime, we're still collecting stuff to sell at the flea market in order to raise money to help the club. You can bring things to club functions, or call any High Councillor. Thanks!

We need a new copier!

The club may be needing a new source of bulk photocopying come the new year. Susan Garrett, our indefatigible printer, may be unable to continue handling 11 x 17 pages. She's been charging us much less than commercial copy shops do, and if we have to go somewhere else, we may not be able to afford it. Anyone with access to a good copier capable of printing 11 x 17 pages double-sided, willing to do a monthly run of 600–700 8-page issues, and living reasonably close to central New Jersey, please call Tom Beck at 609-921-8148.

"Ode to Time Lord" Postponed

The planned Doctor Who event, "Ode to the Time Lord and the Master," scheduled for late September in Washington, D.C., has been rescheduled for January 9–10, 1987. This is not a convention; rather, it is a "stage show with festival-like overtones." Invited guests include Anthony Ainley, Jon Pertwee, John Levene, Gerry Davis, Eric Hoffman, and others. Tickets already sold will be honored in January. The "Ode" is being put on by the National Right to Time Travel Association, the Washington, D.C., area Doctor Who fan club. More information about the "Ode" is available by calling 703-899-4035.

Incidentally, the NRTTTA puts out Time Traveller, one of the very best newsletters of any local DW club in the country. It is well worth getting. On the other hand, the club's dues are $15 annually. For information, write PO Box 90802, Washington, DC 20090.

'Friends of Tom and Colin' celebrates Bakers

Recently, a lot of members have been asking us whether there are any clubs for Colin Baker. In fact, one of our members just happens to run a club for both Tom Baker and Colin Baker, and it's one of the best clubs in the country. The Friends of Tom and Colin Baker, it's called, and it operates with the permission of both actors. FoTaCB publishes a great quarterly newsletter, Doubletalk, full of news and features. Dues are $10 a year, but its' worth it. Write: PO Box 8363, Stanford, CA 94305-0217.

Local Clubs to Sponsor DSV 1 Fan Suite

The Prydonians, along with the area's other clubs, will be hosting a "fan hospitality suite" at DSV One in Newark next January. This will be a suite of rooms at the hotel, open most of the day, where fans can go to rest, talk in relative peace and quiet, enjoy refreshments, and just basically get away from the con for a few moments. We all did this at Whovent '86 East and it was a great success. And anyone who was at Scorpio V this past summer in Chicago certainly appreciated the efforts of Blakes' Several, the Texas club that hosted Scorpio's con suite. Thanks to the generosity of superfan Karlene Hartel, who has stunned us all by offering us the use of her suite at DSV One, we will be able to treat the area's fans to a similar oasis.

On the other hand, running a fan suite takes a lot of work. We are asking all of you who are going to DSV One to help out. We will need donations to a refreshment fund, contributions of things to display (memorabilia, photos, B7 scripts, costumes, etc.), and people volunteering to spend an hour or two during the con "babysitting" in the suite.

If enough people volunteer, we can make it work well and show the fans what the local clubs can do. A club is a service organization as well as a fun group; sponsoring the fan suite is one way we can provide a useful service to all fans, members and nonmembers alike. Please volunteer by calling any High Councillor. Thanks!

24th Season Debuts in Britain

Season 24 of Doctor Who went on the air in Great Britain on Monday, September 7, at 7:45 pm. This is a new time for the show. The first episode of "Time and the Rani" introduced several new things: a new Doctor, of course, as Sylvester McCoy was making his first appearance; also, a new set of opening credits and a new arrangement of the theme music! The story features the return of Kate O'Mara as the Rani, the villainous Time Lady who first appeared opposite Colin Baker's Doctor in the 22nd Season episode "The Mark of the Rani." Both stories were written by Pip and Jane Baker. This new one places more emphasis on comedy than most previous episodes of Doctor Who, and initial ratings were reported to be very large. "Time and the Rani" will continue through September 28, after which the second story of the season, "Paradise Tower," will come on the air. There is still no word as to when the new stories will be shown here in the US.

Sleer in arms-for-tapes scam

continued from page one

In return for tapes of lost episodes of "Star Trek: The Next Next Generation," "Lost in Space Again," "The Avengers," "My Mother the Car," and something called "Doctor Who," the Federation shipped space freighter–loads of sophisticated weapons to so-called "moderates" within the Klingon High Command. Only last month, President Sherman repeated his condemnation of the Klingons as "brutal, vicious barbarians, who ought to be wiped out as we would do to any other vermin," and blasted other planets for continuing to deal with them.

The Senate has not succeeded in tracing where all the money derived from the arms sales went, but most of it was deposited in a bank on Regan's World. Some of it seems to have been stolen by two unknown men who were seen spending an inordinate amount of time at one of the bank's automatic teller machines. Only a partial description of the men was given, but one of them appears to have a fondness for black leather.

The rest of the money was apparently then sent to the Shobogan rebels on Gallifrey. The Sherman Administration has long supported these rebels' efforts to overthrow the current Time Lord government ever since the Master took over from the deposed Lord President Pogo following the scandalous trial of the Doctor. The Senate had banned any direct aid to the Shobogans, and this seems to have been an attempt by the Administration to get around the restrictions.

What kind of arms were sold, how much money was derived, and exactly what was Commissioner Sleer's role in all this have not yet been determined. Calls for the resignation of both President Sherman and Commissioner Sleer have been widely made since news of this scandal broke. The Senate's investigation continues.

Send us your Scorpio V reports!

Next month, we will be running a special report on Scorpio V, the big Blakes 7 convention held in August near Chicago. Any of you who went are invited to submit your own reports on Scorpio V, impressions, memories, favorite moments, meetings with the stars, etc. We would also like offers of photos and other stuff. Please send stuff to the club's PO Box; deadline is September 19. Thanks!

Kim's Cutouts

by Kim Wigmore

DSV 1 sales ideas needed

It is very likely that at least half the attendees at DSV One are going to be members of the club. This means we won't be able to sign up that many new members there. It is therefore imperative that we come up with ideas for new merchandise to sell at DSV One. While we will all be there to have fun, the club will obviously be trying to make some money in the dealers room. We already sell buttons and club T-shirts; what else can we come up with? Send all ideas to High Councillor Cathy Boudreau, 412 Columbus Avenue, Tuckahoe, NY 10707.

'Borusa Awards' nominations sought

It's time to submit nominations for the 1987 Borusa Awards. This is the second annual citation of the best (and worst) of the year in Doctor Who and Blakes 7 fandom. The Awards will be announced next February. Fans are invited to nominate potential winners in the following categories:

Best Book of the Year.
Worst Book.
Convention of the Year.
Party of the Year.
Fan Publication of the Year.
Fanwear Item of the Year.
Best Collectible.
Worst Collectible.
Fan of the Year.
Prydonian of the Year.

And, finally, the Prydonian Renegade of the Year, to that special someone who has burst from the pack to startle us all.

All nominations are due by the end of the year. Send them to the club's PO Box.

Why No Club Directory?

We've had several members ask about a club directory, listing everyone's name, address, and phone number. The reason there is no such thing is that many of you have asked us not to give out your phone numbers openly. We have to respect such wishes; hence, no directory. What we can do, however, is run personal notes from anyone looking for other members in his or her area, etc. Just send us a short note and we'll be happy to print it.

Doctor Who Trivia

The Ice Warriors

by Jon Miller

1. Who discovered the first Ice Warrior?
2. What was the first Ice Warrior's name?
3. What did the Doctor use to destroy the Ice Warriors in "The Ice Warrior"?
4. Why did the Ice Warriors attack the T-Mat base on the Moon in "Seeds of Death"?
5. Who was the T-Mat technician who helped the Ice Warriors?
6. Who ran the space museum in "Seeds of Death"?
7. What did the Ice Warriors' fungus do?
8. In "Curse of Peladon," why were the Ice Warriors on Peladon?
9. Who was their commander?
10. Where were the Ice Warriors hiding in "Monster of Peladon"?
11. Who was their agent on Peladon?
12. Why were they on Peladon?

answers next month

answers to May's quiz:
1. 2525. 2. The Earth's energy. 3. Jamie. 4. The dark side of the moon. 5. The Cryons. 6. "Revenge of the Cybermen." 7. Kleg. 8. International Electromatix. 9. "The Wheel in Space." 10. Krail. 11. The glitter gun. 12. Professor Kellman. 13. Rilton 5 in the star system 690. 14. The Third (okay, the Seventh too, but give him and JNT time). 15. A sonic lance.

Notes from the Library

Care for a Jellybaby?

by Linda Anne Lineaweaver, Librarian

Where have all the conventions gone? My shopping cart is empty, but not to fear. Contributions from members Gail Daltry, Kathy Coy, and Cindy Henry, new members all, have expanded our Doctor Who section considerably. Additions include not only new zines from the US, Britain, and Australia, but also a large collection of back issues of the Doctor Who Appreciation Society's newsletter and of Doctor Who Bulletin.

In keeping with the trend set by our newest additions, this month's review is of the Jellybaby Chronicles, a series of three zines plus a darling Christmas issue. Each volume is a compendium of stories, poetry, and artwork highlighting the travels of the Fourth Doctor (my personal favourite) and his various companions. In the first of the series, the TARDIS visits Pooh Corner, and, in another story, the Doctor is called upon to fix the loo on the Millennium Falcon with his sonic screwdriver. In issue number two, the Doctor and Sarah Jane get to recreate the characters in "Sleeping Beauty"—with a twist. Issue three brings the Doctor face to face with Tom Baker and the real creator of the BBC series. The Christmas issue has the Doctor volunteering to cook the "Christmas Goose." Sound interesting?

For those of you within commuting distance of the Library ("commuting distance" has been known to extend to northern Jersey!), which is located at 4-D-8 Arbor Green in Edgewater Park (near Willingboro), I extend a standing invitation to drop by anytime you find me at home. Just give me a call first. Company has been known to stay until after midnight, and you are all welcome.

A stamped, self-addressed envelope will get you our latest list of available fanzines. Inquiries and memberships ($10) should be sent to Linda Anne Lineaweaver, 4D8 Arbor Green, Beverly, NJ 08010; telephone 609-877-3464. The Library will be available at the October 3 Assembly at the Lawrenceville Library.

Freedom City Gazette 3 Out

Freedom City Gazette #3, the Blakes 7 fanzine put out by the Jersey Jagaroth, is finally out. This one is a Terry Nation special, celebrating the writer who created Blakes 7, along with the Daleks for Doctor Who. The price is $3.50 by mail. Write 10 Hall Court, Park Ridge, NJ 07656.

Prydonian Renegade Competition

Competition Number 6

The WABAC: Blake is arrested by the Federation and framed for selling bootleg Boris and Natasha dolls.

Space Fowl: En route to the prison planet, Blake, Avon, and Jenna escape in a ship shaped like a huge duck.

Cygnus Awful: The crew of the Livereater rescues the other prisoners before they can be sent out to sell flowers and beg in all the Federation's space ports.

Above, here we go again; or, Fakes 7. Competitors are invited to submit story ideas for this original science fiction show.

Competition rules: All entries must be typewritten or legibly handwritten. Only one entry per member (up to three story suggestions). Send to Competition Number 6, Prydonian Renegade, PO Box 3194, Princeton, NJ 08543-3194. Deadline is October 24. Editor's decisions are final and all entries become the property of the club. First Prize: Two months' membership in The Prydonians. Second Prize: one month's membership. First- and second-place winners and honourable mentions will be published in the November issue.

Results of Competition 5, in which we asked for courses the Doctor should have taken at Prydon Academy.

Report: Better than last month, but still not as good as earlier results.

First Prize:
Dealing with BBC Executives—How to Make the Grade.
Achieving Stable Regenerations (taught by Cardinal Borusa)
Tourism 101—Staying out of Local Politics
Jeff Hildebrand, Penn Wynne, PA

Second Prize:
Composition 294—How to Write Autobiographies
Detection 237—How to Recognize the Master in any Disguise
Psychology 103—Diagnosis and Treatment of Megalomaniacs
Marilyn Hanson, Ronkonkoma, NY

Third Prize:
How to travel in and out of E-Space
Improving your sense of direction
Staying out of trouble
Trey M. Taber, Wilmington, DE

Time Winds 18

Available with stories by club members

Time Winds #18, a well-known Doctor Who fanzine published by our own Susan Garrett, will be available in early October. It has a color cover from "The Two Doctors " by well-known artist Gail Bennett. It also has stories by three Prydonians! "Shadows," High Councillor Tom Beck's short novel about Sarah Jane Smith; "A Matter of Conscience," by Cecily Chambers (cofounder of the Unearthly Children); and "Second Time Around" by Steve Zwanger, are all featured in this issue. The cost is $12 by mail, but Susan has agreed to let us agent it for her at cons and club events. We will be selling it for $11 wherever you see us. It's really worth getting. If you want to order by mail, Susan's address is: 142 Sunvalley Drive, Toms River, New Jersey 08753.

Newsletter Address Changes

With the opening of Gallifrey East II, the staff of the Renegade would prefer that all submissions to the newsletter be sent there instead of to the club's PO Box. The address for the newsletter is 216 Witherspoon Street, Princeton, NJ 08540. All other mail for the club should continue to be sent to the PO Box. Thank you.

Call the TARDIS!

This is just another reminder about the TARDIS BBS, the computer bulletin board on which the club has its own message section, section 13. It runs 24 hours a day at 300, 1200, and 2400 baud. To log on, call 609-448-1361. Catch you on the bitstream!

Blakes 7 Trivia

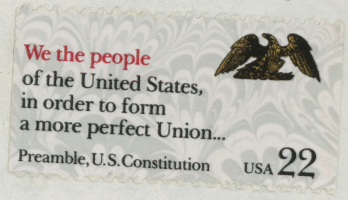
Fourth Season Quiz

1. How many glasses of wine did Soolin set out?
2. What was Pella actually working on?
3. What was Hunda before he led the rebels on Helotrix?
4. How fast was the Space Rat ship going?
5. What was Justin seeking?
6. Why did Avon disapprove of the destruction of the android?
7. What did Cancer kill with?
8. What did the Federation want on Mecron?
9. Who was Keller?
10. What ship did Keiller serve on?
11. How many kilos did Vila weigh?
12. Why did Avon want to bring together the warlords?
13. How did Blake claim to know it was Tarrant?

answers next month

answers to last month's quiz:
1. Horizon. 2. Fosforon. 3. Helotrix. 4. Atlay. 5. Keezam. 6. Caspar. 7. Bucol 2. 8. Chenga. 9. Albian. 10. Cephlon.

The Prydonians of Prynceton
PO Box 3194
Princeton, NJ 08543-3194
(Note New Address!)



First Class Mail

10/88
Ave
Audubon, NJ 08106

Warning! If your address label is printed in green, your membership expires at the end of next month.

If your address label is printed in red, your membership expires with this issue. This will be your last issue of The Renegade unless you renew your dues by the end of this month

Dated Material—Please Rush!